Variance review criteria

In determining whether a property owner has suffered practical difficulties, the Board of Zoning Appeals and City council shall weigh the following factors; provided however, an applicant need not satisfy all of the factors and no single factor shall be determinative, to determine the following:

- 1) Whether the property in question will yield a reasonable return or whether there can be any beneficial use of the property without a variance;
- 2) Whether the variance is substantial;
- 3) Whether the essential character of the neighborhood would be substantially altered or whether adjoining properties would suffer a substantial detriment as a result of the variance;
- 4) Whether the variance would adversely affect the delivery of governmental services (i.e. water, sewer, garbage);
- 5) Whether the property owner purchased the property with knowledge of the zoning restriction;
- 6) Whether the property owner's predicament feasibly can be obviated through some method other than a variance;
- 7) Whether the spirit and intent behind the zoning requirement would be observed and substantial justice done by granting the variance; and
- 8) Any other relevant factor to assist the Board of Zoning Appeals in weighing and balancing the public and private benefits and harms of the requested relief.

Variance Review Procedure

The review procedure for a variance shall proceed as follows:
